Assessment

Examinations will be held for each of the 10 mandatory modules. Some modules might require 2 exams: one regarding the theoretical lecture, and one regarding the practical part of the module.

The method of evaluation is determined by the respective professors/teachers with the approval of the dean.

The method of evaluation may be a written exam, class participation, project presentation, and/or homework assignment.

The format of the exam might vary from one module to another. Here are a few examples:

- Questions with multiple answers
- Individual work cases (essays) to be done at home
- Assignments or presentations to be prepared in groups
- Evaluation tests at the end of each seminar

Each subject is graded out of 20 and the pass mark is 10/20 for each module. The student is admitted if he/she has obtained at least a total of 100 points out of 200 and 60 ECTS credits will be awarded. Results will be communicated at the end of the course and will be followed by a graduation ceremony. There is no exam period, since the examinations are held during or at the end of a module.

► POURSUITES D'ÉTUDES

Students are equipped with a diverse set of skills and knowledge of several legal systems.

Graduates from the LL.M International Business Law pursue a variety of careers, such as:

- Arbitration
- Bar school
- Business consulting
- Legal Counsel
- Legal department in major companies

Laura Beatriz Zanella

LLM IBL Paris 2024

Although my path had led me elsewhere, between the beautiful cities of London, Rome and Luxembourg I was ready for my next challenge. For that, my academic journey - which mostly focused on common law- needed to be enriched with a little of civil and comparative law, and what better place than Pantheon Assas?

With this in mind, as I was exploring options for my courses I discovered the LLM in International Business Law a course which provided not only the opportunity to learn intellectually but also practically. I was confronted with incredible professors, professionals from renowned law firms and students which, to this day, have become a significant part of my new life in the Ville Lumière.
